Our "Old High"

Once again, here as schoolmates assembled,
We fain would lift our hearts in song,
To our High School, our dear Alma Mater,
Let gladness the moments prolong;
We are proud of her lads and her lasses,
Of honors won in days gone by,
So here's a cheer for our old High School,
For our old High School,
Our dear "Old High!"

CHORUS:

Here's to our Classes,
Here's to our lasses,
Here's to the lads they adore;
Here's to the Senior, so "mighty,"
Junior some "flighty," "Freshy," and Sophomore;
Let mirth and gladness,
Banish all sadness,
And as the days go by,
You'll find us ready, and steady,
Boosting for our "Old High!"

Soon for us will the school days be ended,
The dreams of youth, that fade so fast,
But we know that the heart oft will ponder,
In mem'ry o'er scenes that are past;
There are joys that will long be remembered,
And friendships, too, that ne'er can die,
Then here's a cheer for our old High School,
For our old High School,
Our dear "Old High!"

CHORUS:

Boosting the Old High School

Faithful and true-hearted,
Let us cheer our dear "Old High,"
We revere her and defend her,
And her colors proudly fly,
We will stand for her, united,
Of her deeds we gladly tell,
Her colors streaming,
Glad faces beaming,
So here's a cheer for her that we all love so well.

Chorus:

Joyous and ever loyal,
Let us boost for our "Old High,"
Let ev'ry heart sing,
Let ev'ry voice ring,
There's no time to grieve or sigh;
It's ever onward, our course pursuing,
May defeat ne'er our ardor cool,
But united, we will boost for her,
Our Old High School!

Honors she has taken,
On the track and with the ball,
May she always rank the highest,
May her colors never fall,
There's no other that can match her,
When her team is on the field,
Her boys the fleetest,
Her girls the sweetest,
Then here's a cheer for her, for her who ne'er will yield.

Chorus:

Annual Staff

The formation and publication of this Annual was made possible by the cooperation of the January and June graduating classes of '29, the actual composing and distribution being done by the members of the second semester Journalism class directed by Miss Kisling. The printing was done in the printing classes directed by Mr. Wischart; and the art work, by the art classes of Miss Van Hyning.

In order to keep the book within the popular price of eighty cents, several things were omitted by necessity.

School Life

Sing to our School Life!
Hail to our Class!
Proud may the Green and White
Wave and surpass.
We fear no problems;
Conquer all strife—
School Days just come but once,
Cheer for School Life!

Friends, we are leaving,
Leaving—Old High.
To be more successful
We will always try.
Now we are grieving
As we say "Good Bye"—
School Days are o'er for us,
Hail, our Old High!

January Class Song.

January Class Will

We, the Senior A Class of January, professing to be of sound mind and body do declare null and void all previous wills and documents and draw up this, our last will and testament.

ARTICLE I

To all the teachers of Barberton High School, the members of the class of twenty-nine, leave their best wishes and hope that the said teachers will have a few hours of peace each day, now that the most bothersome class in history has gone to the Great Beyond.

ARTICLE II

To the student body of Barberton High School this class leaves twenty-six desks full of scrap paper and other such personal property that is left behind.

ARTICLE III

1. Bob Adams wills his brand new Civics book that has never been opened to Neal Krupp.

2. Martha Baughman leaves her half used bottle of peroxide to Iona Acker.

3. Lloyd Buckio bequeaths his Liars' Club presidency to Roy Hicks.

4. Gus Clark bequeaths his winning ways, especially with Loretta Colliers to Joe Kashir.

5. Thelma Collier leaves her dramatic ability to Margaret Wimp, hoping she may profit by her mistakes.

6. Alice McCorkle leaves her desk mirror to Dean Boyd so she can get her make-up on straight.

7. Walter McNosky leaves his salesmanship ability to Hannah Axner.

8. Margaret Malo leaves her scattering of knowledge to anyone dumb enough to take it.

9. Don Matuck wills his pep to Mary Crane.

10. Jack Neill—being Scotch, leaves only his initials carved on the desks in various rooms.

11. Lillian Lloyd leaves her natural marcel to Hildreth Nedrow.

12. Helen Newman leaves her ability to talk for an hour without saying anything to Emerity Miller.

13. Ruth Nice leaves all her make up work to Purtus Grigsby.

14. Don Trump leaves his taste for speed to Joe Mackley.

15. Mike Raplenovic leaves Bernice Winkleman to Mr. Hunt for safe keeping until she graduates.

16. Russ Romig leaves his experience with women to Clarence Dull.

17. Martha Weddell bequeaths her convict sweater to Art Weller.

18. Julia Shook leaves her rouge box to Mr. Carpenter.

19. Alice Whitehead wills her evening gown to Kathryn Ayers.

20. Jack Lamiell leaves his green shirt to Evelyn Romain so that she can wear her purple suspenders oftener.

21. Edna Summers wills her size 2 shoes to Isabel Constantine.

22. Ethel Vaczi leaves her secret of bluffing the teachers to Jimmy McNamara.

23. Bob Van Hyning leaves all of his conceitedness to Bill Young.

24. Elizabeth Phelps leaves her excess weight to Mildred Youngblood.

25. Mary Wallace wills her green jacket to any Freshman small enough to wear it.

26. Paul Eddy gives his horn to Jack Kusse with the advice of learning the little things before tackling the big ones, such as his bass horn.

This will duly witnessed and attested at Barberton High School this day of January fifteen in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, in the presence of the undersigned witnesses.

Prophecy for January Class, 1929

I had just finished giving the canary some water and the cat some milk, and was sternly ordering the dog to the back porch with his bone, when the door bell rang.

Now, people who know me do not ring my door bell at dinner time, so I concluded that it must be a new applicant for admission into my Old Maid's Home.

I hurried to the door, straightening my apron as I went. I must make a good appearance to strangers. Then I remembered, Martha Baughman, the famous dancer, was to call today.

Sure enough, it was Martha, blonde, good-looking and unmarried—for the time being. After we had discussed the weather, which was terrible—and my dog's health, which was worse, we started on our classmates and we didn't finish until it was supper time.

First of all, I heard of Alice McCorkle and Rus Romig. These two had been sweethearts since High School days, so it did not surprise me to learn that they were married, had been married for the last two years—off and on. The last time Alice had divorced Rus (that was the fourth, by the way) she charged him with threatening to use her French poodle for a door mat if she didn't keep it away from his English bulldog. She divorced him Wednesday afternoon of last week, and Thursday evening she married him again. Maybe it was Rus's football ability. He played four years on the Sherman University eleven.

Then there was Bob Adams, champion tardy man of every office he ever worked in. The only days he didn't come late to work were those he didn't come at all. Statistics say that he even missed his dinner on Sunday and holidays because he didn't want to ruin his hard-earned reputation. You may have heard, too, that he was developing marvelous muscular powers. I think this was made possible by his work in the Senior Class Play. He had to carry Thelma Collier off the stage.

Then, Thelma herself, better known as "Toot" in High School days, couldn't make up her mind whether she wanted a career or a husband. She changed her mind five times—and now she has four divorces, one husband and three musical concerts to her credit.

Martha told me about Mike Raplenovic, former dashnig half-back on Barberton's eleven. He graduated from Hametown Tech two years ago. He kept on flunking so that he could play football—and the college got tired of seeing him around. Consequences were, they burned the school down—and Mike got mad and graduated.

Paul Eddy, that strikingly red-headed violinist, who could also play a French horn, is doing big things in the world. Right now, he's helping Wilson Heller carry a bass drum around from place to place, what time he isn't moving pianos or playing bass horns or fiddling at some big hall.

Jack Lamiell has gone into the coat business on a heavy scale. He sells raccoons and bear skins to all those college boys who are continually coming in from the near universities.

Lloyd Buckio, curly-headed and small as ever, has up to date, played four years of scrub football at Massillon Institute, written a book on "Why Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," (Martha Baughman), another on "The Merits of Being a Brunette," (Martha Weddell), and is now writing "The Best Way to Tease Girls," (b.o.h.). Golf is his favorite hobby, what time is left after he comes home from playing bridge. He and Jack Neill got into an argument about who was the worst player. Lloyd challenged Jack to a game. The final score was, I think, 10,695 for Lloyd to 10,697 for Jack. That was for three holes. Since then, Jack has been making good in the golfing line. He has won three medals, two loving cups, and a certificate for being the World's Worst Golfer. Imagine competing with a reputation like that.

Gus Clark is captain of a tramp steamer that plies its way between Shanghai and China. I think that he left Lauretta at home this trip although he had no good reason for doing so.

Little Walter McNosky has finally forsaken the field of cartooning for the comfort of a home of his own. Only the other day he married Elizabeth Phelps, and they are perfectly happy in their little home out on Clinton Road. Elizabeth used to be such a flirt but she surely settled down for Walter. I didn't know Walter was such a cave-man.

Ethel Vaczi taught shorthand at Doylestown High for quite a while, and then decided to let Don Matuck, who teaches Chemistry, take care of her the rest of her life. This he does, by blowing roofs from the Doylestown High School building. I think he has destroyed six so far this year.

Helen Newman went to Kent Normal for quite a while, and then married someone. Martha wouldn't tell me who it was, but she did say that he used to live in Akron. Now, Helen doesn't have to send Jay, Jr. to school, she can teach him herself.

Martha Weddell, after she had refused Don Trump for the sixtieth time, entered the movies. Her first picture was "The Morning After a Night at Alice's." The latest one is entitled, "Those Old Hookey Days."

Alice Whitehead, late of Billionarea, just lost her husband—divorced him—and her alimony would enable her to buy Brooklyn Bridge if she so desired. But she doesn't want the Bridge, she wants a Prince or a King, and she's going to get him.

Bob Van Hyning, President of our class, hasn't quite recovered from the presidency complex. He rooms at the White House—one of the President's numerous staff, I think he said. From what I can make out, he'd like Martha Baughman to get a job there, too, but she can't quite see washing anyone's dishes.

Ruth Nice and Lillian Lloyd have established a boarding house for stray dogs—and they are fairly happy, although their husbands do object to other dogs in the house.

Julia Shook teaches geometry at our Old High—and she has had six chances to be married—but the color of her prospect's hair didn't suit her. She likes very, very, very blond hair. So after all, she is going to put her application in for a place at my Home.

Edna Summers and Margaret Malo are busy breaking shorthand and typing records. The last one they broke cost them seventy-five cents apiece, so they are rather careful how they handle records lately. Margaret, after turning down Jack L. and Don Matuch and Mike Rapolenovic, has decided she likes my Home better than any other place there is. Edna hasn't quite decided whether she likes it or not—or whether she'd like to start one of her own, so she doesn't say anything about it.

Don Trump, disheartened by Martha's refusal, works with the police. He tries out the motorcycles to see how fast they will go. All he does, is climb into his Chrysler—he has a new one now—and get the police to chase him. Once in awhile they manage to catch him, but that is a rare occurrence. He has broken three speed records and five telephone poles in the last two weeks.

Martha just finished telling me about Don when the dog began to howl. Such a racket! When he quieted down—I found out later that he had been chasing a skunk—I looked at the clock. Supper time already!

Martha stayed for supper and then left for New York.

At 7:30 I put the canary to bed, and put the dog and the cat out. Then I climber upstairs. What a day! What a day!

—M. W.

Senior Class History

It was a cold day in January, nineteen hundred and twenty-five, when a flock of some one hundred and fifty Freshies entered the auditorium of Barberton High School. As we sat in the auditorium waiting for instructions, many upper classmen "pecked in," looked us over and then gave us a good "razzing." The first few weeks we didn't seem to like, but soon were full-fledged 9-A's, and showed the upper classmen and Freshies that we, too, knew how to "razz" the Freshie B's.

On October 25, 1925, we held our first class meeting, and was at last organized. Thelma Colter had the honor of being our first class president; her assistant was Margaret Malo. Nettie Jorjeff, who had now joined our class, was elected Secretary.

Soon we were Sophomore B's. Our Officers were the same, except that we elected John Lamiell to collect and safeguard the dues. It was during this semester that we very sadly bowed our heads, because of the sudden death of our honorable class secretary, Nettie Jorjeff.

During our Sophomore A term, we elected Roy Brasaemle to be our next president; Margaret Malo, vice-president; Willard Sherman, treasurer; Ethel Vaczi, secretary.

At last we were upper classmen—"Juniors so flighty." The same officers were chosen to lead the first part of the third year in B. H. S. The next semester, we got our rings and pins and how we did flash 'em!

How time does fly! Now we are "Seniors so mighty." This is the Big Year for us, a year we shall never forget.

The officers elected to lead this year are President, Robert Van Hying, assisted by Margaret Malo; Jack Neill, keeping a summary of this Great Year, and Ethel Vaczi, treasurer.

During the previous years, "Duke" Measell headed our class. Mr. French and Miss Hollinger, now Ruth Hollinger Dungan, were our class advisers. (Because of the departure of our honorable class adviser, Miss Menke was chosen to take her place.)

Banquet! Parties! Blazers! Making money!—All this was a difficult problem. We chose Kelly green and white for our blazers, after much excitement and quarreling. Through the halls of B. H. S. we heard such gossip among the Senior A's—"Well, I guess the Senior B's are going to give us a picnic or a canary feed," but, of course, no such thing happened. The banquet we gave them was certainly a surprise to them. Boy! It was a wow!!! The eats were carried out in green and white. The music room was beautifully decorated with roses and dogwood. A mass of roses hung from the ceiling in the center, with colored electric lights scattered among them. Every night, for weeks, we went to each others homes to make the roses.

It was during this year we held many parties, some of which were held at Summit Beach Park, at the Lakes, at the home of Martha Baughman, and a farewell party in honor of Ruth Hollinger Dungan, at the home of Robert Van Hying.

Out of the one hundred and fifty freshies that entered, twenty-six Seniors are waiting for the greatest day of all—Commencement, when we must bid adieu to our dear old Alma Mater.

Farewell

Now our Hi-School days are over,
 There is no cause to lament;
 We shall remember them as being
 The happiest ever spent.

Meetings and greetings we hail with joy,
 But farewells are sad to say;
 Into adventures of life we go—
 The honored blue and gray.

CHORUS:

Here's to our Alma Mater!
 Her reverence we hold sublime,
 We part, but we'll be united,
 This June class of '29.

June Class History

Four short years ago, on September 6, 1925, about two hundred Freshies entered the halls of B. H. S. with the purpose in mind of pursuing further the education they had gained in their first eight years of primary grades.

Of the two hundred entered, 124 have seen fit to discontinue school. Seventy-six remain to carry on the work of the class.

In our Freshie year, our class President was Frances LaPorte. Clarence Dull was President of our Sophomore class, Lawrence Snyder, President of our Junior Class; and now, in our Senior year, James McNamara acts as chief in calling meetings and settling questions.

The "29" class passed through their four years of High School with few mishaps and are now preparing to graduate and render glorious the name of Blue and Gray, leaving a lasting memory with classes succeeding us.

Our June Graduates Years from Now

It is rather a lonely life, this life of a rich married woman. Days seem to be endless hours of trying to find something to do to occupy one's time. I was not the only one who was in this sad predicament. A school pal and friend of mine, Emerita Miller by name, appeared to be in the same boat as I, myself, was. She had married Raymond Flickinger, who had made his fortune on the stock market. Emerita and I decided to combine our fates, and take a trip around the world. Many days were spent in preparation. The day of our departure dawned bright and clear. We repaired to the Akron Union Station where we procured tickets to New York. When I stepped up to the ticket window none other than John Galitsky stared through the bars at me.

We took the 5:40 P. M. train from Akron, and after having checked our baggage, went into the dining car. There stood the chief porter in the person of Harvey Ricks, who had achieved his ambition of going through college and finally becoming a Pullman porter. After luncheon, we went back to our seats and settled ourselves for a long chat. Across the aisle from us, sat a peculiar looking gentleman with specs. He appeared to be a professor of Biology. Upon inquiring we found that he was a teacher of Biology in Bolivar Road High School, and was on his way to New York to take up the study of Bugology more extensively. His name was Professor Virgil Shriner. We arrived in New York at 7 o'clock the next morning. We took a taxi to the Plaza Hotel. To our surprise, the taxi driver turned out to be Paul Saurers. He had long years of practice from driving his Ford in high school days.

We made reservations at the hotel for a few days. The proprietor seemed quite willing to get acquainted, and talked to us considerably. We thought he looked familiar, with his spats and black, curly hair. Upon being introduced to him, we recalled him as the blue-eyed heart-breaker of B. H. S. His name was George Thomas. We asked him what had become of Margaret Whimp, his high school sweetheart, and he informed us with tearful eyes that she had jilted him for a rich radio announcer, John Meehan.

The next day we went window shopping. While walking down the main street in New York, a Modiste's sign, hanging high in the door of a very smart shoppe, caught our attention. We immediately decided to go in and try some of her newest and smartest creations. A beautiful and slim girl approached us, and invited us to be seated. Something in her manner of talk and graceful appearance awakened in my subconscious mind, the memory of a girl I knew during school days. Sure enough! It was Mary Goff. Her models were Olga Izo, Georgia Fisher, Beatrice Werner, Geneva Wilson and Marjorie Smith. We each purchased a gown to wear the following day to lunch with a friend, James McNamara, the broker.

The following day being Wednesday, we decided to go out and see as much of New York as we could. When we descended into the lobby, George, the proprietor, asked us how we enjoyed the night. We told him that the springs in the bed were broken, which made it very hard for us to sleep. He informed us that this was the result of set-up exercises taken by Esther Varner, who had recently stayed there, and had taken these exercises to decrease excess weight.

Upon going out into the street, we were astonished to see Joe Molvartz standing on the street corner selling fruit from a little push-cart. We witnessed other sights of less importance, and finally toward evening turned our weary steps toward the hotel. The next morning, we took leave for England.

On the boat going over, we met Lester Varner and Lucille Witwer, who were recently married and were to spend their honeymoon in England. The captain of the boat was a big, friendly Irishman. Where had I met him before? Oh yes! I finally remembered going to school with him while in B. H. S. It was none other than Charles Sutter. We enjoyed this trip immensely, and after a few days' voyage landed in England. At the dock, we met Jackson Young, who had recently acquired a title in England, and who was awaiting his fiancée, Mildred Youngblood, who was to come over on our boat. Down the gang-plank she came, with a Pekingese dog held tightly in one arm, and a group of attendants behind. 45

The following day, we attended a concert. It was a wonderful entertainment. Frances La Porte, after a hard struggle, had won leading position as violinist on the English Concert stage, and was assisted by Kathryn Ayers at the piano, Robert Bartel on the saxophone, and "Red" Bryant on the saw.

The following morning, we sat out for Ireland, where we were given an audience with the ruler, "Red" Creasap and his wife, Mary Crane. We were surprised to find our classmates so far away as Ireland and England.

In a few days, we left for Africa. Here we saw everything from an elephant to an African Tree-Climber and Hula Dancer. The United States ambassador to Africa, Clifford Ricks, invited us to have luncheon with him. After lunch, we were entertained by a group of Hula Dancers, the leader of the group being Margaret Anderson. The other three were, Mildred Kline, Marie Edwards and Pauline Ludwick. This performance pleased us because our well remembered classmates took part in it. After seeing all the sights in Africa, we decided to go to Spain.

While in Spain, we went to a bullfight. We were quite surprised to find the gallant Marcel Romaine as the bull fighter. The bull just about got the best of him, when a couple in the audience yelled, "Barrel him, Marce." We thought we recognized the voice, and turned around to investigate. Sure enough, there sat Bob White and Paul Bricker. We found out later that Kathryn Peters earned her bread and butter as a Spanish dancer at a Ritzy night club, assisted by Christina Street.

A week in Spain was enough for us, so we journeyed to France. We went directly to the city of Paris. Here, the first person we met was a struggling young artist, Ray Greenless. We remembered the excellent work he had done as an art student while in High School. We met many of our classmates who were either sight-seeing or on business. There was Fat Dull, with his wife, Oris Swartz; Hugh Jones, who had married Helga Ebert. He was a traveling salesman. He left his wife and the three little Jones' in America. There was Sardis Titley with his wife, Kathryn Nedrow. Clarence Brown and William Himelright, who were two rich bachelors, also traveling abroad, trying to find amusement.

We had spent almost all the time and money our husbands allowed us, so finally decided to go home. On our return, we visited Wadsworth, Hametown and other cities that had grown up since we had been in High School. After a week's journey, we arrived at Wadsworth. We were told that the Mayor of this thriving metropolis was Lawrence Snyder, who had married Marjorie Smith. Then we visited Wadsworth College. Here we met the Coach, Thomas Keenan. In the same school were Adolph Baurer, professor of Civics; and Allison Swartz, teacher of History. We attended a circus in the afternoon. The chief barker was Fritz Hemker. Harold Saurers was the strongest man in seven counties and Irene Kosco was billed as the star of the trapeze performers.

Our biggest surprise since the bull fight in Spain came when we arrived in Hametown. As we walked along the street, we came in contact with a very clean looking young gentleman, who ran around the street in a high state of excitement trying to clean the sidewalks. It was the chief of Hametown street cleaners, Joe Reder.

The following day, we were invited by the superintendent of the Hametown University to visit the school. The superintendent was none other than Bill Tomb. The principal was John Weiler. We were taken into the auditorium where the University orchestra, led by Professor Bill Rehman, entertained. Mike Kasanic and Carl Maas were chief firemen at the University. Some of the students preparing to teach were: Charles Hiss, Margaret Hanzel and Bridget Tholdt.

We bade goodby to all our classmates we met while on this delightful journey, and turned homeward, knowing that in the days that were to follow, we would sit and think of the successful men and women who were once our classmates in our dear Alma Mater, B. H. S.

Football - 1928

Last fall Barberton High completed a not altogether successful football season, there being but two victories against six defeats and one tie. Although the season was not a success the one noticeable factor was the faith of the student body in the team. At every game there was a good crowd of rooters cheering the team on.

The first game of the season was at Wooster which proved a walk-away, the Magics scoring 45 points to Wooster's seven. This game aroused many false hopes.

The next game against Garfield at home resulted in a tie, 7-7, Garfield scoring on a fumble.

The following Saturday the Magics invaded Akron to play East and emerged on the short end of a 33-0 score.

The next week Akron North came to the Magic camp and to a rally in the second half came out on top 25-7.

In the next game the Magics showed much improvement and lost out to Akron Central after a hard fought game 33-20.

The following Friday, Elyria came here and won out, 25-12, in a poorly played contest, the final half was played in a downpour, the field was a veritable sea of mud.

The next week, accompanied by a loyal band of rooters, Coach Pratt's proteges traveled to Lorain where a Magic rally in the final half was halted by the gun. The Magics building Lorain scoreless in the final half. The score was 14-6. After a week of hard practice the Brown and White entertained Kenmore on the home field. Considerable rivalry was aroused and a fair crowd was present. Led by Mike Raplenovic the Magics went wild and added the Cardinal scalp. The score was 33-12.

In the last game of the season the Magic warriors lost a very hotly contested game, 7-6. Incompetent officiating was an outstanding factor of the contest. The Magic squad was led by Captain Joe Molvortz, half-back. The rest of the personnel is as follows:

Coach.....	Stanley F. Pratt
Assistant Coach.....	Karl Harter

BASKETBALL TEAM

Standing—Whitman, Seryak, Leiberth, Maas, Ass't. Coach Harter, Coach Pratt, Manager Beres, and Weigand. Sitting—Hiss, C. Ricks, H. Ricks captain Bartel, Hackney, Jones, and Romain.

Romig and Rap'lenovic were also members until graduated in January.

Basketball Review

Barberton High completed a fairly successful basketball season, with ten victories and six defeats, although not much progress was made at the Tournament at Goodyear Gym.

Barberton started the season with four lettermen, losing two, Mike Raplenovic and Russell Romig, owing to mid-year graduation.

The squad was handicapped by injuries and could not muster its full strength toward the latter part of the season. Members of the squad at the end of the season were: Bartel, C. Ricks, H. Ricks, Hackney, Hiss, Romain, V. Weigand, Seryak, Lieberth, Maas, Jones and Whitman.

The first game was played with Akron West at Akron Central. West won 20-13, owing to superior playing in the first half.

The second game, with Kent State, the first home game, was easily won 32-20.

The next game at Akron East, was an uninteresting affair that East won 21-13.

At Garfield, the Magics couldn't get started out of the slump and lost 23-19, despite a last minute rally.

The following week, the team traveled to Medina and won, hands down. Coach Pratt used the entire squad. Score 48-13.

The next night, Barberton encountered Wadsworth, traditional enemy, winning out in the last quarter 29-22.

The next week the Magics revenged an earlier defeat by walloping Akron East at the local gym by a score of 31-16.

The next evening "Mike" and "Red" played their last game for B. H. S., winning an exciting tilt on fouls, the final score being 19-18.

The next week, although without the services of "Mike" and "Red," the Magics easily defeated Medina 42-29.

The next Tuesday, in a game sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, the Magics defeated Kenmore in a hectic struggle 29-25.

The next game with Wooster was a walk-away for B. H. S.—the score being doubled 51-25.

Akron North ended the ninth game, and avenged an earlier defeat by trouncing the Magics 28-18.

The last home game with Sharon, Pa., was a thriller from beginning to end, without Sharon holding an advantage, although the Magics played an uphill game, losing 28-26.

In the Northeastern Ohio Tournament, Barberton High did not fare so well, losing the first game to Youngstown East 18-15, after holding a seven-point advantage at the half.

The following week the team took on Akron Central and after an overtime period, the Brown and White emerged with the Wildcat scalp 32-31.

The next evening Coach Pratt's tossers defeated Akron North in a furious struggle, winning out in a last period rally 32-27.

OTHER ACTIVE SPORTS

1. TRACK—

This is the first time B. H. S. has had a track team for six years. A gradual improvement has been shown in all contests. The meet with Cuyahoga Falls being a decided victory. Prospects for next year are excellent.

2. TENNIS—

Very little has been accomplished in tennis because of bad weather. All scheduled matches so far have had to be postponed because of rain. The boy's team under Mr. Harter have displayed improvement. The girl's tennis activities have been confined largely to indoor practice in the gym.

3. GOLF—

The golf team was above the average of high school golf teams for the 1929 season. In the district meet, fifth place was made. Unfortunately, most of this year's team will be graduated in the June Class.

Two senior plays were presented during the school year: "The Seven Keys to Baldpate" by the January Graduating Class, and "The Patsy" by the June Class. Both plays were successfully presented.

The Recreation Club is also an active organization. This club sponsors dances about every two weeks. The money cleared this year was used to banquet the Senior Graduating Class.

Happenings of '28 and '29

In making this resume of the year 1929, we have recorded only the important things that one wishes to remember, with no thought of being humorous.

- Sept. 4— School opened today after three months of vacation. It was a big day on the middle floor with all the Freshies looking for a haven.
- Sept. 5— These poor Freshies! One wandered into the Sewing Room today, thinking it was Manual Training.
- Sept. 20— We surely knocked Wooster for a goal. Beat them 45-7.
- Sept. 25— Mr. Peiffer reached in his pocket and brought forth—behold! a bar of candy for each teacher to celebrate the arrival of William Dudley.
- Oct. 2— Another good woman gone wrong. Miss Hollinger was married to Mr. Cameron Dungan at the High Street Methodist Church this afternoon.
- Oct. 4— Harold Loring and Evergreen Tree entertained us today for the sum of ten cents. We heard for the first time that little Indians aren't called papooses any more but that these small bundles of humanity are commonly referred to as "Yes, sir—that's my baby."
- Oct. 6— We will put the soft pedal on the game today with East.
- Oct. 20— Did you hear about Hannah trying to vamp Bill Young at the 11B party last night? Wonder if Carol was there?
- Oct. 25— Played Elyria today, but we're not telling how we came out. Oh, well, we'll console ourselves saying that everyone has their losing moments.
- Nov. 2— The first meeting of the Recreation Club was held in the Music Room. You should have been there to see the dirty stare Carpenter gave us when he bumped into us.
- Nov. 5— Mary Goff deposited little Esther Varner in the waste basket outside of Bill Young's room today. Poor Esther! All you could see was her arms and legs sticking out.
- Nov. 7— This is exhibition night. We all hope Mr. Whitnack is satisfied with that chart Mildred Youngblood made, also those scrap books.
- Nov. 10— That was a swell outcome to the Kenmore game. We beat them 33-12.
- Nov. 13— Oh girls! Did you notice how handsome Mr. Bruner is? He's the man I'm going to sell magazines for.
- Nov. 16— Went to chapel at 10:25 today. Mr. Bowen could not get the program he wanted, so we listened to an organ recital instead.
- Nov. 27— The reds won in the magazine sale. Now we can settle down to the regular routine again.
- Nov. 28— We were wondering why the teachers were so cheerful today, and giving no extra assignment. Then it just dawned on us that tomorrow is Thanksgiving. No wonder!
- Nov. 30— The day after the one before. It's a good thing there's no school today—I'm so stuffed.
- Dec. 7— There is talk of shutting the school down because so many are down and out with the flu.
- Dec. 14— The boys wore their new suits tonight in the first basketball game. They surely are stunning.
- Dec. 18— Even the smartest can always learn something new. In a chapel speech today we heard that fish perspire and that Beebe built a bonfire at the bottom of the ocean.
- Dec. 19— What could be sweeter? Two whole weeks of vacation and Santa Claus coming in the bargain.

- Jan. 2— The teachers warned us about finals today. In about two weeks they are coming in full force.
  - Jan. 9— The great ordeal is here. Tonight is the big production of "Seven Keys to Baldpate." Gee, it's a wow.
  - Jan. 10— No fun without work is true. Mr. Whitnack gave us 103 questions to answer tomorrow just because he had to give up his authority to a Senior.
  - Jan. 11— Everyone was dressed in their best bib and tucker in the hope of being recognized in chapel.
  - Jan. 12— We beat Wadsworth 29-22 tonight.
  - Jan. 18— Everyone feels good tonight. We beat Central by one point.
  - Jan. 21— There are very few good lessons today. All Seniors are excited over the big party tonight.
  - Jan. 22— Now we know what it means to feel like the morning after the night before. Mary Crane and George Thomas ought to feel worse than any of us.
  - Jan. 24— Commencement Night! Oh, what a thrill it gives us to hear that! Wish it were June instead of January.
  - Jan. 25— The finals are over. Grade cards given out, and we are Senior A's at last.
  - Feb. 2— Mr. Bowen was asked by a local merchant to model with his new-style basketball togs.
  - Feb. 5— Cocky Chandler lost a banana split on the game with Kenmore tonight.
  - Feb. 8— We just walked away with the ball tonight, 51-25.
  - Feb. 11— Lindbergh's aide spoke to the student body today in the auditorium. Lieutenant Keyhoe told us of the ups and downs in an aviator's life.
  - Feb. 13— Senior B's decided on cherry and tan sweaters. Just anything to be different.
  - Feb. 15— There is a special program and souvenirs to be given away tonight at Rec. In fact, it is a Valentine party.
  - Feb. 18— Extra! Extra! It's Monday morning and Ponzy Meehan is here, and on time, too. If all reports are true, Mr. Pieffer almost fell over.
  - Feb. 25— James McNamara is back to guide us. Our class president has undergone an operation.
  - Feb. 26— Catherine McCafferty is still teaching in "Shorty" Williams' place. Some teacher, too.
  - Mar. 1— Senior A's signed up for pictures tonight. What an art gallery they will make.
  - Mar. 5— By the reports given in teachers' meeting, the ladies seem to have met many handsome sheiks at the Convention in Cleveland last week.
  - Mar. 15— Grade cards came out today. There were oodles of heart-breaking sighs and cries over the red marks.
  - Mar. 20— We just found out that a group of boys flicked school to go to Youngstown. They stopped at the gas station down the road and while there Mr. Light drove up. Imagine their embarrassment!
  - Mar. 22— The Senior B's promenaded into Study Hall with their new sweaters. Among the many criticisms were "potato sacks."
  - Mar. 23— Barberton was defeated by Medina there and Wadsworth here yesterday in the Triangular Debate. Our orators were good, though.
  - Mar. 27— Senior A's tried out for class play this afternoon. The judges wouldn't announce the cast, though. They declared they wanted to get out of town first.
  - Mar. 29— Today our Easter vacation begins.
  - April 1— April Fool's Day and there is no school. Could anyone have worse luck?
  - April 2— Catherine McCafferty is to be the heroine of our class play, "The Patsy." Practice will begin at once in order to give the performances May 2 and 3.
  - April 5— All things good and bad must come to an end. So must this. The printer wants it.

When one shaft splits another

No succeed once may be a matter of luck. But when one shaft and successful Annual "by Can-mean "good marksmanship." Details of the
